Gastronomy and what to do

As Neves is a small village located in the Rias Baixas in southern Galicia Spain near the town of Arbo, it is separated from Portugal by the Miño River. This wonderful destination offers a wide variety of landscapes and abundant nature, with amazing rivers, mountains, and valleys where you can enjoy stunning views. The charming small town stands out for the numerous walking trails such as: O Sendeiro dos frades where you can see roman bridges, mills, churches and casas señoriales (stately homes) or the Sendeiro dos Pescadores (Fishermen's trail), a route through which fishermen used to travel their way to the fishing sites.

If you are thinking about traveling to As Neves, exploring the town's center and San Nomedio mounts its a must-visit! you will enjoy stunning views of the river Miño and the valley of Tea. Other worth visiting sites in As Neves are, the area of Santa Mariña or O Camiño dos Pescadores (Fishermen's path). Here you will also find other cultural attractions like Saint Marta romería (a religious festivity) or the sculptures in Redondela where you will have the opportunity to admire the perfect combination of art and nature.

A unique historical-artistic legacy resides in this town, you can find 13 parroquias, petroglyphs, castros (fortified settlements), roman bridges, pesqueiras (walls that were built into the river to catch the lampreys) and many religious monuments and edifications that captivate every tourist that visits them.

Besides the gorgeous natural charm, gastronomy takes an important part in As Neves. Great local gastronomy with fresh locally grown products such as the popular lamprey (a fish existing from the Roman period), game meats and, we won't forget, the Requeixo (a type of fresh cheese) and the Mel (honey). All these delicacies are always paired with the best white wines of the region (Albariño and Condado) and the red wines from Rubiós.

From As Neves you can explore the O Condado region where you can find numerous places to wander around and get lost in nature. Some examples could be the historical walls of Salvaterra do Miño, its wine museum, or the Pesqueiras trail in Arbo.
