Off-road Jeep Experience & Wine Region on Madeira Island

The best way to discover the nature of Madeira is in a Jeep along off-road trails to see the lungs of this sub-tropical island. Stop at amazing lookout vantage points to admire the views along the way. A must when you come to Madeira is to take a Jeep ride with a local expert who knows the back roads!

Not only are fortified wines made on Madeira island, in fact for generations, families have been making table wines for family consumption, as they play an important role on the table of Madeiran cuisine. As of 2008, the wine region of Madeirense DOP started commercializing small-batch table wines of Madeira. A wide range of grape varieties are permitted in the region, the most popular being the white grape Verdelho, making an excellent 100% mono-varietal wine. We will taste these young wines at Quinta do Barbusano, Antonio, the owner, has worked hard to create some excellent wines in a very special setting of the Sao Vicente Valley.

The market has a wide selection of tropical fruits, vegetables, fish, seafood, etc... all locally sourced.

Then Chef Filipe and his family open the doors to their Madeiran estate inviting us for an exclusive gastronomic experience. A masterclass cooking class of Madeiran Cuisine with some parts hands-on and demo. Learn to make poncha on the fabulous garden terrace, Bake the bolo do caco (flat bread), make the Atum em Filete de Escabeche (Marinated Tuna Fillet), Espetada (meat on a skewer) on the barbecue, dessert with fruits from his garden, and more!
