Dare to get up close to the ghouls of the midnight, keeping young and old on their toes with guard from any fear or temptation. With the beat of the drums setting ghouls to a new dimension so close yet outside of arms reach.

Fabulous exciting tour from Sean's perfect vantage spot. The parade with weird scary men on stilts breathing fire was awesome. Never seen anything like it before. Sean zoomed in several times to give us better views. Loved this tour!

A really enjoyable and interesting tour. I've never seen anything like this before, but it was incredible to watch and I could feel the atmosphere through the screen. To start off with, there were a few different styles of music, including drumming, which was lovely to listen to. The fire came later and it was spectacular. The guides coped well with a few initial signal problems and found a good place from which to stream the tour so we could see well and have an uninterrupted view.
